COURSE OUTLINE

VISCERAL MANIPULATION: ABDOMEN 2 (VM2)

The Barral Institute

OUTLINE

- Review of the functional anatomy, hand placements and techniques of VM1, and open discussion of problems from practice
- Long-lever techniques for the liver, stomach (including hiatal hernias), duodenum, small and large intestine
- The concept of restriction planes, mobility and motility
- Anatomy and physiology of the kidneys, and kidney techniques
- Anatomy and physiology of the pancreas, and pancreas techniques
- Anatomy and physiology of the spleen, and spleen techniques
- Anatomy and physiology of the peritoneum, and peritoneum techniques
- Techniques for the greater omentum
- The effects of and contraindications for work with each organ
- Integration of the new organs into whole-body relationships
- Supervised hands-on practice of all techniques